organic agriculture

Our delicious organic mango pulp accompanies you healthily throughout the day: in the morning with cereals, at noon as a snack, or in the evening with an Asian rice bowl. Free of additives, our mango pulp provides energy in a natural way.

We source our mango pulp from our partner, Nanalal Satra. His partners cultivate mango trees organically in Gujarat (India). By marketing the organic mango pulp, we contribute to a flourishing of organic agriculture in Gujarat. Thereof, the entire region benefits sustainably.

On its way from India to Europe, the 100% recyclable can protects the fine mango pulp. You will experience the full taste.
